

END TIME ALERT: 3

“And when these things begin to come to pass, look up and lift up your heads, for your redemption draws near” Luke 21:28.

Church, and everyone else take heed and do not return into sleep. Watch now! Time is running out.

To a great extent the church community tends to believe that there is still a bank of time as it has been for the past decades or centuries before our Lord Jesus comes to take His church or the end of time.

This belief, perception or mindset of no urgency; this, “as usual” mentality is likely going to see many Christians left behind and surprised when destruction of end times come Jesus comes to take His church. This lack of readiness and relaxation appears to be the current situation with most believers around the globe, let alone non believers, yet the time of the end has already begun. I know it sounds crazy to talk about the end.

I wish I could actually shake up everyone to this truth. Of course yes I made this end time message script to try and achieve that goal. This is a call to action.

Brethren, ladies and gentlemen, we have lived in the normalcy of time and with less urgency of readiness for the return of Jesus Christ or end time for over two thousands years now.

Right now to talk about the need to watch for Jesus coming soon can be taken as rhetoric for the better or madness for the worse. But I tell you signs both physical and spiritual are pointing to something strange. I believe time is running out and an enormous and weird Bible prophecy is about to be fulfilled. Unusual snow storms, floods and earthquakes are being witness in countries like USA, Russia Italy, China and Japan among others. Another sign in the sky is puzzling Scientists right now, an interstellar object or comet called 3I ATLAS entered our solar system last year from another galaxy and is acting in ways that no human philosophy or scientific theory can explain. In October 2025 the moon turned red in what people called an eclipse.

I take it that these are signs of His coming as written in the Bible. All these natural disasters could be the beginning of sorrows that will lead to the great tribulation talked of by Jesus in Matthew 24:8. This is the time when Jesus is giving this statement, “And when these things begin to come to pass, look up and lift up your heads, for your redemption draws near.” From Luke 21:28.

For those who are church members please take note, Jesus is coming sooner than you might think, wake up now and start watching. To those who had not believed Jesus as their Lord and Saviour please repent now and accept Jesus to stay in your heart and rule your life. The time of grace is ending and the door is closing as it did during the time of Noah. Those who rejected the warning were drowned and perished in the great floods yet Noah and his family were safe in the Arc.

However, to some those Bible events may appear to have no value when they read them now just as stories which they can choose to believe or throw away as garbage. They can do that without repentant meditation because it was not their fate, but the truth is that history always records everyone’s end either fateful or good. Let us choose a wise ending, an end where you get united with your Creator in joy and happiness. Not an end where you are forsaken by your only Creator and Father, God. Because of rejecting His only begotten Son, Jesus.

One day I watched a court case where a serial rapist and murderer was sentence to death. He cried remorsefully as he pleaded for forgiveness. His relatives joined him in the cry and everyone in the courtroom including me felt touched too as sorrow gripped everyone. But the Judge would not change her ruling saying that if that rapist and murder had a heart of flesh he would have not committed numerous of such heartless acts. Now reality had dawned too late to him and he had to face such shocking reality.

The door of grace is closing, choose life and safety before it is too late. Jesus Christ Loves you and calls you before the door closes. When the door closes it will not open again just like Noa’s Arc door which never opened again whilst people cried outside trying to get in. It had not been closed by Noah but by God Himself the Creator of all things.

I believe that you are the son of God who came down from heaven to save the world. Lord forgive my sins and write my name in the book of life. Give me a heart of obedience to your word.
